Using this form

You can use this form to apply for a refund of duty if you previously paid duty on a transfer of land from one party to a marriage, significant relationship or caring relationship to be held by both parties to the marriage, significant relationship or caring relationship. The refund only applies if you have built on the land, within 2 years of the original transfer, a private dwelling house, which is your principal place of residence.

A significant relationship, according to section 4 of the Relationships Act 2003, is a relationship between two adult persons who:

- have a relationship as a couple; and
- are not married to one another or related by family.

In determining whether two persons are in a significant relationship, all the circumstances of the relationship are taken into account.

A caring partner, according to section 3 of the Duties Act 2001, in relation to a person, means the individual who is in a caring relationship with that person, being a caring relationship that:

- is the subject of a deed of relationship registered under Part 2 of the Relationships Act 2003; or
- is declared to exist by virtue of a declaration of the Supreme Court in force under Part 7 of that Act.

If you have any question about the determination of a significant relationship or caring partnership, please contact the State Revenue Office.

A private dwelling house, as defined in section 55 of the Duties Act 2001, “includes a lot, within the meaning of the Strata Titles Act 1998, used as a place of residence.”

How to fill out this form

The form can be completed by one of the transferees under the transfer for which this refund is claimed and be submitted to the State Revenue Office.

You can print this form while blank and fill it out by hand, or you can fill it in using Adobe Acrobat (version 8 or later). You may not be able to save the edited document, depending on which version of Acrobat you are using. You will still be able to print the edited document.

What you will need to complete this form

You will need identifying details of the transferred dutiable property (volume and folio number) and details of when the duty was previously paid. If you have recently finished constructing your home, please include a copy of your Occupancy Certificate from your local council.

If you are lodging the application because you were in a caring relationship, please include a copy of your deed registered in accordance with the Relationships Act 2003.
